MEMORY.

Strong as the power, whose strange control
Impels the torrent's force,
Directs the needle to the pole,
And bids the waves of ocean roll
In their appointed course—
So powerful are the ties that bind
The scenes of childhood to the mind;
So firmly to the heart adheres
The memory of departed years.

Whence is this passion in the breast?—
That when the past we view,
And think on pleasures once possessed,
In Fancy's fairest colors dressed,
Those pleasures we renew?
And why do Memory's pains impart
A pleasing sadness to the heart?
What potent charm to all endears
The days of our departed years?

True, many a rosebud, blooming gay,
Life's opening path adorns;
But all who tread that path will say,
That 'mid the flowers which strew its way,
Are care's corroding thorns,
Yet still the bosom will retain
Affection even for hours of pain;
And we can smile, though bathed in tears,
At memory of departed years

The distance our bewildered gaze
On former scenes beguiles;
And Memory's charm the eye betrays,
For while enjoyment it displays
And robes the past in smiles,
Its flattering mirror proves untrue,
Conceals the sorrow from our view,
And hides the griefs, the doubts and fears,
That darkened our departed years.

Time, when our own, we oft despise—
When gone, its loss deplore;
Nor till the fleeting moment flies
Do mortals learn its worth to prize—
When it returns no more.
For this an anxious look we cast,
With fond regret, on hours long past—
For this the feeling heart reveres
The memory of departed years.

A MYSTERY OF THE SEA.

The strange and contradictory story connected with what is called a new island in the Pacific ocean, on the line of travel to the East Indies, together with the account of finding thereupon the remains of a vessel, the Canton, a vessel belonging to the East India Company, and which mysteriously disappeared in the year 1816, leaving, until recently, no traces of her fate, recalls a narrative which appeared in a paper of Cherbourg in France, nearly forty years ago, and which, although its authenticity was doubted at the time, seemed to settle, beyond dispute, the doubts which, since the close of the last war with Great Britain, have enveloped the life and career of Jean Lafitte, the famous buccaneer of Barataria Bay. It is a matter of history that Lafitte performed signal service in the campaign of 1815 against the British forces opposed to Gen. Jackson at New Orleans; it is also a matter of general report that nothing definite is known of his place of residence, mode of life, or fate, subsequent to that event. The story told by Captain Nikols, of the schooner Caroline Mills, the discoverer of the wreck of the Canton on the island or coral reef referred to in the beginning of this communication, and which is set down in the chart as Gaspar Rica Island, taken in connection with the publication in the Cherebourg paper which I give below, strengthens the belief that the publication referred to was, in truth, an authentic narrative, written by Lafitte himself, of the events which doubtless immediately preceeded the death of that bold rover and his crew.

Captain Nikols' statement of the discovery of the Canton's remains contains, among others, the following particulars:

On landing upon this island, which is formed entirely of coral, and is only about eight feet above the level of the sea, Captain Nikols was surprised to find the beach strewn over with the reck of a vessel of considerable size, and a closer investigation in no degree diminished his astonishment, for it became evident that the wreck had been cast away at least a generation ago. The fragments scattered here and there were of teak, and the copper rudder bands and some sheets from the hull were picked up.—Judging from the size of the timbers, the pieces of which lying around were all in excellent preservation, Captain Nikols supposes that the vessel was one of between four and five hundred tons. On proceeding further up the beach, a place was found where the shipwrecked crew had evidently camped, and some faded and rotten sailcloth showed that they made a tent for themselves out of the sails. Here the first clue to the identity of the lost vessel was found in the shape of a quarter board bearing the name "Canton" deeply carved on it. Near to this was the armoral shield which had surmounted the stern, and this has been recognized by an old sailor at Honolulu as being identical with those used by the old East India Company.

In the vicinity of the camping place where this relic was discovered, were found also several spoons and platters of wood. It has been suggested that these are exactly similar to such as were commonly used by the Lascar sailors in the Company's employ, and it's possible that the Canton was so manged, but when the frigidity of the climate in which she traded is considered, it may be regarded as unfavorable to this view, it being well-known that Lascars, though making excellent seamen in the tropics, become almost useless in cold weather.—The experience of every sea captain who has doubled Cape Horn with a Lascar crew will verify this assertion. Several old sea chests were strewn around, but were empty, as were also the compass boxes of the lost vessel. No trace of writing or inscription of any kind could be found by the people of the Mills, though the captain searched narrowly over every part of the beach where the wreck was lying. In the course of their investigations the party came upon a very singular scene. The frame of the main hatchway of the Canton had been cast up whole, and through the opening a tree had sprung up and attained its full growth; and as it was large as any trees in the island this must be taken as irrefutable proof, even if none other existed, of the many years which have elapsed since the ship was cast away. As to what become of the crew nothing is known. The island and its surroundidg reefs inclose a large lagoon, and Captain Nikols is of the opinion that they escaped across this, and endeavored to reach some of the neighboring islands. Whether they succeeded and were imprisoned or killed by the inhabitants, who are cruel savages, or whether they were drowned at sea will probably remain undisclosed forever. The Canton's record, however, goes as far as this. According to Lloyd's register, the Bengal British ship Canton is reported to have left Sitka, on the northwest coast of our newly-acquired Russian American possessions, in the year 1816, and was never more heard of. Who was her captain, who was her officers, and what her lading was, if any, there is no means of ascertaining.

The conclusions to be drawn from the above interesting account is plain. By some fortuitous chance, the condition of this island has been concealed from human knowledge since the date of the disaster to the Canton fifty years ago, and no man, from the time of that calamity to the moment of its discovery by Captain Nikols, has loooked upon that mouldering wreck and survived to tell the tale.

As to the document which, in view of late developments, seems to decide the fate of Lafitte, a few words may be necessary. In the month of October, in the year 1830, the Russian bark Petrovitch touched at Cherbourg. The captain of this vessel delivered to the local authorities of that city a manuscript which he reported having rescued, floating in a tightly sealed bottle, from the waters of the South Pacific Ocean off the Galapagos Islands. This manuscript which purported to be the diary of Captain Jean Lafitte, commander of the L'Hirondelle, Mexican privateer, written during a week's residence upon a barren island in the North Pacific Ocean upon which his vessel had been wrecked, found its way eventually into the columns of a local paper. It is to be regretted that the name of this journal cannot be given for the reason that the printed slip from which the translation is made is contained in a scrap book—the writer herof being indebted to a friend for a translation of this interesting document—and the evidence which connects its publication with Cherbourg is contained in the printed head-line—which has been preserved in the extract—"Cherbourg, 15 Octobre, 1830," and as well as in a few prefatory remarks of the editor, in giving it to the public, detailing the manner of the discovery of the manuscript, and expressing doubt as to its authenticity. When it is remembered that the diary mentions events which occurred four years previous to the date of its discovery by the Russian captain, and that no knowledge of the island in question was had during that time, and, therefore, that no corroboration of the truth of the singular story could have existed, the incredulity of the Cherbourg editor will be understood. Indeed it is reasonable to suppose that the general disbelief in the authenticity of the narrative caused it, and the facts which it purported to give to die out of the public mind and to become a matter of little or no concern.—The reason for this is doubtless found in the sequel to an announcement made in the editor's preface to Lafitte's diary, which stated that instructions would be given to commanders of French vessels in the North Pacific to make search for the island mentioned in the narrative and report the result. I see no reason to doubt that this search was made; but as the special island upon which the L'Hirondelle was wrecked was never discovered until Captain Nikols by accident chanced upon it not long ago, it is fair to presume that the failure to discover the corpus delicti—in this case the wreck of Lafitte's ship and a certain knowledge of the island referred to—stamped the whole story in the public mind of France as a forgery. As regards any Mexican opinion on this subject, nothing is known. The disappearance of the L'Hirondelle must naturally have caused some comment in that country, but as Mexico at that time—as indeed she is now and always has been—was the scene of bloody and engrossing wars, it is allowable to suppose that nobody found time in the heat of the existing struggles, either to question, or to affirm, the authenicity of a document so interesting to her government and people.—This much by way of introduction. It will be seen that Lafitte had disguised himself under a pseudonym whilst in the Mexican service—a natural reason why his whereabouts were never known in those days—and acknowledges his indentity in this diary, which he doubtless felt would be his last legacy to his fellow men. The translation of the document reads as follows:

"TO THE MEXICAN PEOPLE AND WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

In view of the disaster to his Ship, and because of the possibility, of himself and crew not surviving, Jean Lafitte, otherwise Francisco Guiterrez, captain of the privateer L'Hirondelle in the service of the Republic of Mexico makes the following statement:

AUGUST 10TH—My ship, L'Hirondelle, struck suddenly early this morning upon an island apparently not laid down in the charts. We were under easy sail, going north by east, and, not anticipating danger, were suddenly and without a moment's warning thrown upon a reef whose existence was not suspected. The action of the waves, within two hours, broke up the vessel. At much risk to life and limb, eighteen of the officers and crew of the ship were safely landed in the only boat which escaped destruction. I have to report, however, the loss by drowning, or exhaustion, of the Lieutenant Pedro Gomez, and eight of the crew. The island upon which we have been cast is one of many and seems to consist chiefly of extended reefs lying at irregular heights above the surface of the water. I have noticed no signs of habitation, but the island is quite extensive and evidences of vegetable life present themselves in the distance. I hope to signal a passing sail before our stock of provisions and water is exhausted. I shall decide to-morrow whether to remain or venture to sea.

"AUGUST 11TH—Reckonings taken today indicate that we are in the vicinity of Marshall's Islands, in longitude 169 degrees 5 minutes east, and latitude 12 degrees 20 minutes north, and northeast from the Caroline Islands about eight hundred miles. This cluster must have been formed recently, or the charts are very defective, as they seem to belong to the Radack Chain. The trees, however, of which there are many of a stunted appearance, give evidence of many years of growth. I discover that fish may be easily caught in the waters surrounding us, and that there are birds of a peculiar kind, half land and half water fowl, which are of a pleasant taste and which may be easily killed as they fly quite close to us. Having saved from the wreck a number of guns, together with powder and ball, we are enabled to kill these birds for the purpose of food. Fresh water has also been found. In view of these circumstances I have concluded to camp here, and to-day we erected tents on a favorable position, making use of the sails of the ship, which we have visited the wreck to obtain.

"AUGUST 12TH—I ordered this morning an inland survey of the island—at least up to within a reasonable distance of the camp. The exploring party returned this evening and reported having gone three miles. The island seems very extensive and presents no different features from those I have already described. They have told me something however, which causes me anxiety. Human bones were found and evident traces of a camp fire. The bones have been little affected by time, and afford grounds for the supposition, I fear, that the island may be inhabited, or at least frequented, by savages who, in these parts, are cannibals. The discovery of to-day may alter my determination to remain upon the island.

"AUGUST 13TH—Narvez went this morning, having obtained leave for the purpose, along the coast. He tells me that about two miles from our bivouac he saw the traces of a shipwreck. The wreck appears to be an old one, and from the appearance of what remains must have occurred many years ago. He is an ignorant man, and knows little else of the wreck than what he has reported. He found no indication as to the wrecked ship's name or condition, but he judges her to have been a merchantman. I fear that this desert island contains other horrors of which we as yet know nothing. Jackson the Englishman died to day. Exposure on the morning of the shipwreck was doubtless the cause. This is the opinion of the surgeon.

AUGUST 14TH—I have felt feverish today—the result of exposure. The health of the crew is generally good. When I feel stronger I shall go to examine the island, and especially the discovery made by Narvez. Perhaps I may be enabled to clear up a mystery. Nothing new to report to-day.

"AUGUST 15TH.—My worst fears have been realized. Peterson, while on guard at about five o'clock this morning, saw four canoes at sea making for one of the neighboring reefs. These boats were at a distance of about three miles from us. I examined them through a glass, and counted forty savages in them—ten in each boat. Their purpose in this vicinity is mere conjecture; their existence is a fact. I do not think our camp has been discovered by them. I have a presentment, however, that we shall have trouble. I have therefore ordered the whole crew to remain by their arms night and day. The day has passed without trouble. Since the disappearance of the savages behind the reef we have not seen them. To morrow perhaps!

"AUGUSE 19TH.—The storm has burst upon us, and I write this upon the eve of our departure from this Golgotha. We to-day had a heavy battle with the savages—the same party seen by us yesterday. We discerned them approaching our island at about ten o'clock this morning. They were not aware of our presence until they were within a few hundred yards of us. I had marched the crew, fully armed, on first discovering them, to the shore. Their course was directed, apparantly, to a point near our position, and seeing this, and desirous of learning their intentions and character—whether friendly or otherwise—if possible, I bade my men conceal themselves, and presented myself alone to their view, hallowing to attract their attention as I did so. The result was that, on seeing me, they brandished their clubs and lances, and shouted loudly to each other. They accelerated the speed of their boats and made for me, still shouting their savage cry of 'Lulu kaiko! lulu kaiko!' I was then so well satisfied that their intentions were hostile that I ordered my men into full view, and waved the savages back from the shore. Their reply to this—they were now not more than fifty rods from us—was to shout more angrily than before, and to hurl their lances at us. I gave the order to fire, which was followed by some execution among the savages. The first and nearest boat suffered heavily, as we could see. To my surprise, however, in a few instants shots were fired from several muskets among them, and two of my men—namely, Lawson and Alvrez—fell wounded, the former mortally. Almost in the same moment—we had reloaded and fired in the meantime—the savages, having reached the shore, scattered themselves in parties of twos and threes to our right and left, evidently seeking to surround us. As they did so, they continued to hurl their weapons in our direction and to fire—those in possession of guns—at irregular intervals. I then ordered my men to retire rapidly in the direction of our camp, determined to preserve our provisions and ammunition at all hazards. From the camp we could also command our boat, which was a special object of my solicitude, and which I had small fear that the savages would discover, as it was hidden in a sort of cove.

"In our new position we exchanged shots with the savages for several hours—two more men being shot down, Peterson and Angle. The latter was killed instantly. We inflicted heavy loss upon the attacking party, as we could now and then discover, by the effects of our fire. At about four o'clock in the evening one of the savages appeared from behind his shelter with hands held above his head in token of parley. I went out half way to meet him and discovered that he spoke broken English—learned he told me from some English sailors with whom he had once associated. He was not very communicative, and merely said that he and his companions had come from the direction of the setting sun—somewhere from the west I understood him to indicate by this—possibly the Caroline Islands—and that the island was theirs, and we must submit to them if we wished to be unmolested. He also said that there was a large party of his people in one of the neighboring islands, and that their chief was with them and would be present on the morrow. The island upon which we were was one devoted to the performance of their ceremonies and the celebration of their feasts, and on the next day they were to participate in one of these feasts. I knew what he ment by this that one of their usual orgies was in progress, and, as I had made up my mind to the course I should pursue, I told him that I would make friends with his chief and receive him on the next day. I only required that he and his companions should depart from the island before night as a proof of their sincerity. This stratagem was entirely successful. The eyes of the savage lighted up with a gleam of pleasure, and he left me with the promise that they would leave the island and that we should be good friends. I understood his purpose perfectly. This was to thorw us off our guard, make prisoners of us, and then devour us at their leisure.

"Before nightfall, true to the promise of their spokesman, the savages took to their canoes, carrying their dead and wounded with them. In half an hour they had disappeared in the direction from which they had come in the morning. Before their disappearance was a matter of certainty, I had made every arrangement for our departure. Our provisions were taken to the boat together with sufficient water for ten days.—Angel and Lawson were buried. The latter having but a few hours to live, was shot at his earnest request, as he dreaded being left to all alive into the hands of the savages. I also buried a certain amount of treasure which I had saved from the wreck and which, finding it impossible to carry put away, I left, with the hope that if I were spared I would return some day to the island and regain it. Then with my two wounded men, who are in a fair way to recover, I marched the crew to the boat. With some pieces of the canvas which composed our tents we have rigged a small sail, and all is now ready for our departure.

"My last act before leaving the inhospitable shores of this accursed reef will be to place this manuscript in a bottle, carefully sealed. This bottle I will cast into open ocean to-morrow morning, with the hope that, should any further disaster overtake us bringing about our destruction, this record may be picked up by some passing vessel and used to enlighten the world as to the fate which has befallen us. I hope, however, that once at sea, we will fall in with a sail bound for or from the coast of Asia or some one of the rich islands in that direction. It is possible that we may meet with the savages somewhere in these waters. I know that then the danger would be formidable; but I also know my crew and can rely upon them. The last moment has come, as the sail is raised and my men are awaiting me. Alas! I weep for my poor unfortunate crew who have so often braved death with me. For myself I fear nothing. Adieu! adieu!

"JEAN LAFITTE, (otherwise Francisco Guiterrez,)

"Captain of the L'Hirondelle, Mexican Privateer.

"Written in the North Pacific Ocean, August 16th, 1826, and consigned to the Winds and to the waves and to Destiny."

This is the document which now, nearly forty years after its discovery, seems to stand in the light of a thrilling revelation. The questions which rise: did Lafitte meet the savages at sea, and were he and his boat's crew slain by them, or did he escape the cannibals to perish by starvation or in a storm? will probably never be answered. But who shall say with our present knowledge of "the accursed reef" to which this narrative with a seemingly unerring precision, that this piteous voice from the wilderness of waters was never raised to give token of the bold rover's fate? or shall we re-echo the doubts which thirty years ago agitated the municipality of Cherbourg and ask—"Was it a forgery?"

DEATH.—We have never read anything more beautiful than the following from the pen of George D. Prentice;

There is but a breath of air and a beat of the heart betwixt this world and the next. And in the brief interval of painful and awful suspense, while we feel that death is present with us, that we are powerless, and the all powerful, and the faint pulsation here is but the prelude of endless life hereafter, we feel in the midst of the stunning calamity about to befall us, that the earth has no compensation good to mitigate the severity of our loss. But there is no grief without some beneficient provision to soften its intenseness. When the good and lovely die, the memory of their good deeds, like the moonbeam, on the stormy sea, light up our darkened hearts and lends to the surround[illegible] gloom a beauty so sad, so sweet, that we would not, if we could, dispel the darkness that environs it.

THE Salt Lake Telegraph says: "Utah alone among the Territories, and alone among the States and Territories of this great nation, are pronounced to have no [illegible] debt."

HE who [illegible] of an excellent [illegible] value it, will [illegible] to show.

NEVER [illegible] if you have [illegible] fair one to [illegible] like for [illegible] wrong [illegible] all possible haste.

DUTCH FLAT ENQUIRER.

SATURDAY, MARCH 14, '68.

THE DUTCH FLAT SHAFT.—The progress of this work is watched with much interest by miners and by the community in general, as it is held that the result of the prospecting now going on at this point will materially effect future prospecting in Gray's Hill, in which the shaft is being put down. It embraces an extensive mining plot which has been pretty thoroughly "scalped" by years of hydraulicing, and in which remaining "bottom," it appears, are centred about all the hopes of drift-diggings which our miners entertain. It is certain that should the Dutch Flat Company strike pay gravel in their shaft, Gray's Hill would be opened up by them in a first-class manner within a year, and equally certain that several adjoining companies would vie with them in opening their claims, which would give back to the town something of its olden business activity and restore it to its former rank as one of the best mining towns for investment in the State. The work at the shaft is under the immediate supervision of Jno. S. Colgrove, the largest shareholder in the company and is being pushed by him with vigor and ability. The depth of one hundred and twenty feet from the surface has been reached, three shifts are constantly employed and the work is steadily descending at the rate of two feet in twenty-four hours. It is thought the bedrock will be reached at from thirty to forty feet below the present level.

MINING AT IOWA HILL.—We learn that the miners at this place are working steadily in their claims with flattering prospects. The Sailor Union Company are running off the top dirt of their claim by the acre; the ground has caved nearly up to Main street, and is running in from both sides. The kitchen of the Hotel d'Orleans has been torn down to prevent its going off with the bank, and should another heavy fall of rain occur Warren's Hotel, and a portion of Main street will be sure to find their way to the bed rock in the Sailor Union. Butler and Manuel are at work in the old Rich claims, just below the Sailor Union. The North Star Company are engaged in running a tunnel through the bed rock, in order to obtain fall for their sluices, preparatory to rigging it up as a hydraulic claim. The tunnel is now in three hundred feet, and they have about three hundred feet more to run before it is completed. The Jamison Company are piping away at their bank, and are having the satisfaction of being well remunerated for their labor. This claim and the Sailor Union, working as they do from opposite sides of the hill, will in a short time cut the town in two. The Morning Star Company are running a new tunnel to their pay lead, the present one being too high for practical use. The mine is paying splendidly. All the mines which are being worked on this divide are paying very well.

MINING ACCIDENT.—On last Tuesday evening Thos. Knott, a well-known and respected gentleman of this place was killed by the caving of a bank in the Deep Shaft claim, situated about one fourth of a mile northwest of town. It seems that Knott and a man named Philip Bailey were working on the night shift, and that during the day a large boulder had been loosened from the bank and was lying in the way, and they received instructions to blast it to pieces. They commenced drilling a hole in the boulder, and at the time of the cave Bailey was holding the drill and Knott was striking, when, suddenly, a piece dropped out of the bank and covered poor Knott up, but strange to say, Bailey, who was standing close to the bank, was left uninjured. Bailey ran to the nearest house for assistance, and in short time a large crowd had gathered; the cave being a small one was soon removed, and poor Knot was rescued from his terrible predicament. The suffering man was placed upon a handbarrow and carried to his residence, he died, however, just as the party who were carrying him reached his gate. He leaves a wife and three children in destitute circumstances. The Deep Shaft has been an unfortunate claim, several men having been killed in it.

ATTENTION, ROAD COMMISSIONER!—The road between town and the depot is strangely out of repair for the principal thoroughfare of a civilized community. At points it is positively dangerous. There is a hole about half way up Slaughter-house hill which is almost unnavigable to vehicles. Coaches running to and from the depot, loaded with women and children are liable to be overturned in it, and then some one would be severely blamed. This pitfall should be attended to before, or immediately after the first serious accident.

THE RAILROAD.—We learn that the citizens of Gold Run have gotten up a remonstrance, which is extensively signed, against the reduction of fare and freight on the Railroad. This is a move in the right direction, and we are glad to hear that a portion of the citizens of this county are awakening to their sense of duty. We would suggest that our citizens get up a similar remonstrance; justice to the railroad company demands such action.

OUR inquiry last week brought forth the Dutch Flat Poet. He being a printer sets up his own communications.

THE RAILROAD TERMINI.

A considerable stir has been created in certain circles in San Francisco, and especially among the newspapers, by the application of the Central Pacific, San Jose and Southern Pacific Railrood Companies for "a tract of tide and overflowed land commencing at the northerly termination of Channel street; thence due east to a point where the water is thirty-two feet deep at low tide; thence in a southerly direction in a direct line to a point southeast of Point Avisadero, as marked on the charts of the United States Coast Survey, published A. D. 1862, where the water is thirty-two feet deep at low tide; thence southerly in a direct line to a point due east of Point San Bruno, where the water is twenty feet deep at low tide; thence due west to Point San Bruno at high water mark; thence following the line of high water mark to a point due west of the southerly end of Channel street; thence east to Channel street; thence along Channel street to the place of beginning; (presenting a water front three times as long as that now in use), at the rate of $100 per acre for all the lands north of Point Avisadero, and at an appraisement for all the lands south of that line."

There is a provision, however, in the bill that should the lands north of Point Avisadero be appraised at a greater value than $100 per acre the grantees shall expend the excess in improving and reclaiming the premises. The Alta of the 11th inst. says: "The Bulletin of last evening published a map of the tract which the railroad companies ask the Legislature to give them for a comparatively trifling sum. From this we learn that the extent of the water line of the proposed grant is eight and a half miles, that its distance from the shore on Mission Bay is nearly one and a fourth miles; on Islais Cove, south of the Potrero, one and a half miles, and two and a half miles south of Hunter's Point, and that the total area embraced is 6,620 acres, while only 230 acres of made land are now used for commercial purposes. As another evidence of the value of the proposed grant, we are informed that the preliminary steps were taken yesterday for the formation of an association which will offer to give the State five millions of dollars for the tract, payable in yearly instalments; or, in other words, pay off the entire State debt!" We do not blame the railroad companies for asking for this, but we do hope that there are enough sensible men in the Legislature to prevent their obtaining this grant.

GOOD.—The San Francisco Alta takes the Sacramento Union to task in the following manner:

We regret to see that the Sacramento Union is bandying epithets with sundry newspapers, styled by it "the subsidized press." Such coarse and unkindly insinuations are discreditable to the press of this State, which we believe will compare favorably in point of honesty with that of any other State of the Union; and we are sorry to see a respectable newspaper attempting to cast odium upon its contemporaries who happen to disagree with it upon the line of policy to be pursued toward the Central Pacific Railroad. It is possible that the Union may speak from knowledge of facts; if so, it has a right to characterize newspapers which have been subsidized, by that title, but we respectfully submit that its free use of the term at this time only excites suspicion as to its own course heretofore. Our readers very well recollect the persistent and seemingly unreasonable championship of the Central Pacific Railroad and all its claims, by the Union, up to a very recent period, even during a time when it stood almost alone in its bitter partisanship. We do not recollect that the epithet "subsidized press" was used at that time. Did anybody then say that the Union was subsidized, and therefore a champion of the Central Pacific Railroad? Does any one now say that the Union is no longer subsidized, and is therefore clamorous against the road? We admonish our Sacramento contemporary that its ill-tempered course will provoke suspicion by and by.

MITE.—We learn that this society will commence operations again on next Tuesday evening at Golden Eagle Hall. This being the first meeting for several weeks, a large crowd will undoubtedly be in attendance.

THE "PAJARONIAN."—We have received the first number of this new weekly, published at Watsonville, Santa Cruz county, by J. A. Cottle. It presents a very creditable appearance. It is independent in politics. May it do well.

THE announcement by the San Francisco Bulletin that the Central Pacific Railroad Company had bought out the Southern Pacific Railway Company and the San Jose Railroad Company is strenuously denied by all parties concerned.

WE call attention to the advertisement of W. Frank & Co., dealers in willow ware, brushes, toys, etc. They are first class business men, and will give you an opportunity to drive a good bargain if you will only give them a call.

A MAN named Charles Allen, has been sentenced by a Stockton Justice of the Peace, to six months imprisonment, for stealing a shot-gun from the steamer Paul Pry.

LETTER FROM SACRAMENTO.

SACRAMENTO, MARCH 12, 1868.

Work is going on in good earnest in both Houses of the Legislature but without any prospect of clearing the calendar before the expiration of the term. Nearly all important bills have been retained by the Committees to which they were referred, for the purpose of collecting information, and preparing reliable reports, and as the time of Legislative dissolution is fast approaching, much interest is manifested in the fate of many of the special bills which were apparently thrown in to fill up. About eleven hundred bills have been introduced in both Houses, six hundred and seventy of which originated in the Assembly—nine out of ten are local or private in their character. About one hundred and thirty have been approved by the Governor, and six or seven have been returned unhonored by his signature.

The Lobby is full and bears the impress of a great deal of ability, energy and sagacity. Men who would have accepted the Senatorial toga, as a mark of just appreciation of their value to society, find profitable employment in buttonholing members, and lauding this or that mode of disposing of the tide lands, this kind of an insurance bill, or that way of disposing of the vexed question of double taxation, which has occupied nearly all the time for the last two days in the Assembly.

One of the great tide land bills comes up to day in the House, what action will be taken upon it is yet doubtful. A nice little proposition to give depot grounds to the Pacific and other railroad companies, along the water front of San Francisco, which according to the Bulletin amounts to over six thousand acres. No such proposition will meet the approval of both Houses; the record would not look well; but aside from that, there is too much honesty among the members to place themselves where Mr. Gorham found one of the prominent causes of his defeat. An attempt was made on Tuesday to force the House Committee on Corporations, to report the bills providing for the reduction of fare and freight, on the Central Pacific Railroad, but resulted in an explanation that they are still engaged in taking testimony upon the subject but would report at an early day.

The City election on Tuesday, resulted in a Union majority of 119, which (to be fair) is quite a falling off, since the Union party was not divided upon any issue as it usually has been here.

The weather is improving, (Don't look much improved up this way.—ED. ENQ.) and three days of sunshine have made the streets dusty, with the exception of just a few holes, which are dedicated to the nocturnal melodies of frogs. It is not a canard that a man was drowned in the streets, nor is it that a large portion of the city is still under water; and that boats and floating walks are required by many of the citizens to enable them to reach their domicils.

AMUSEMENTS.

The New Academy of Music will be dedicated to Thespus to-night, the opening address is to be delivered by Albert Hart, well known in Placer county, after which Mr. Couldock and daughter will personate the leading characters in "The Chimney Corner." On to-morrow evening Thomas Fitch will tell us of the "Coming Empire," and on the 25th inst., Hon. L. E. Pratt will favor the citizens of this place with a lecture on the subject "Good in Everything."

A LOPHER.

THE POET FOUND.

EDITOR ENQUIRER—SIR: I see in the last issue of your paper the querry "who is he?" and a quotation from the Sacramento Record.

Before answering the above question, it will be necessary to show how matters stand in the direction from which this mighty effort at wit contained in the paper above named, was produced, and will say: that in the Capitol of this mighty State of California lives one D–n R. S., whose fame as business manager of a certain little sheet of paper called the Record is immense. Now, this D–n is "small potatoes and few in a hill" except when there is sample-rooms at State Fairs, at which times he might be called a mighty sampler.

I acknowledge the failure in bringing to bear such a machine as the Local of that little sheet of paper aforesaid, upon "literary matters," and as I failed so egregiously in the machine poetry that he complains of, I will try once more and see if I can't make a success out of the Little D–n for a subject—thusly:

Little D–n, is he the man—
Is he the Local—is he?
Is he the plotter of the plan—
Of what the Record is to be!

The mighty flood that rolls along,
The Sacramento River:
Is but a wave of ocean strong
To arrows in his quiver.

The Record when up to his plan
Is sure to be a splasher,
What he can't fix it, no one can,
Because he's such a smasher:

And when he gets it fix'd all write,
And mighty, says he be it—
I don't think men of brains aright
Can look thereon—and "see it."

Yet, perhaps he has some brains
Without he'd hardly live.
He may have—well—about two grains,
I'll not be positive:

But now, he has done his best
His wreaths together bind—
Do all you can to give him rest
The Little Bag of wind.

Now for the present "let him rip." I will endeavor to satisfy your mind MR. EDITOR, concerning the 'real poet' if you are not already satisfied from the above, after stating that my subject is so very small that few could say one word for or against him, and as for the 'fabled Pegassus" he was laid up at the time of the State Fair when this other "galant rider, this same subject of mine wind-galled, ringboned, spavened and big-headed, him, in his effort to ride poetically with the State Fair Gazette for a saddle and but for the assistance of your humble servant would have been thrown, and by me came very near having his egg cooked on that certain stove he was trying his poetical ability for, well he also failed. One word more for this "venerable Local." I will inform him that his case is not yet hopeless. He can yet be made smart—apply a large mustard plaster to thyself from top to bottom. Then Thou wilt be "Old Smarty." This is the only hope left you to realize your aspirations. A. E. R.

COMMUNICATED.

ED. ENQUIRER:—I noticed in your valuable journal the other day some remarks relative to the Amateurs of this town, and as amateur performances are generally given for some charitable purpose, the opportunity now occurs for carrying out the same. A poor woman with three children has suddenly been deprived of her husband, cut off without a moment's warning, leaving her without any support, with a large family of little ones to the charity of the town. Some of us, however willing, are not so blessed with the world's goods as to be able to give much, but we can all do something; let those then who have the ability, meet together and give a performance, devoting the proceeds to the benefit of the poor widow and orphan. I feel assured we can net something handsome, and those who grace the performance with their presence will have the pleasure of knowing that they have contributed their mite to a worthy object. Allow me to offer my humble services in any capacity you may think fit to place me. Apologizing for occupying so much of your valuable space,

I am, yours respectfully, WATTY.

This is truly an excellent opportunity for some of our people who have the will but not the power to give, to turn their minds to a good advantage. Will somebody lead in the matter.—ED.

THE GREAT MEDICINE OF THE WORLD.

Perry Davis & Son's Pain Killer, may most justly be styled the great medicine of the world, for there is no region of the globe into which it has not found its way, and none where it has not long been largely used and highly prized. Moreover, there is no clime to which it has not proved to be well adapted for the cure of a considerable variety of diseases; it is a speedy and safe remedy for burns, scalds, cuts, bruises, diarrhœa, and bowel complaints generally, it is admirably suited for every race of men on the face of the globe.

It is a very significant fact, that notwithstanding the long period of years that the Pain Killer has been before the world, it has never lost one whit of its popularity or shown the least sign of becoming unpopular; but on the contrary, the call for it has steadily increased from its discovery by that honored and excellent man, Perry Davis, and at no previous time has the demand for it been so great, or the quantity made been so large, as it is this day.

Another significant fact is, that nowhere has the Pain Killer ever been in higher repute, or been more generally used by families and individuals, than it has been here at home where it was first discovered and introduced, and where its proprietors, Messrs. Perry Davis & Son, have ever been held in high esteem. That the Pain Killer will continue what we have styled it "the great medicine of the world," there cannot be the shadow of a doubt.—Providence Advertiser. fe15 1m

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

Charles Earmer, Druggist, writes from Ovid, Mish., "I have just sold the last bottle of ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM. It sells like 'hot cakes,' and gives UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

Stanley & Skipper, Chippewa Ealls, Wis., writes: "We wish you would send a good supply of ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM, as it is getting to be one of the necessary institutions of the country. It sells well, and gives entire satisfaction to those using it."

F. L. Allen, a well-known druggist, at New London, Conn., writes us that ALLEN'S LUNG BASAM is favorably received by the afflicted. He says: "I have retailed nearly four dozen bottles over my counter, and it has given good satisfaction."

Many letters like the above are daily received from all parts of the country. The demand for it from California is large for a medicine so recently offered for sale. We have sold hundreds of dozens to go to that far-off region of gold. It CURES, and that accounts for its GREAT SUCCESS. None use it who do not recommend it to their friends. Hence its great sale. Price $1 per bottle. fe15 1m

HOPE FOR THE AFFLICTED.—In another part of this paper will be found the advertisement of the celebrated Institute established by Dr. J. C. YOUNG, in 1850. In this age of deceit and charlatanism it is a boon to the suffering to point out to them where they are sure of obtaining the wished for relief and cure. Under the care of the skillful Doctor the sick and troubled can divest themselves of their burdens of pain; lay aside their cross, and secure health and happiness. If you are sick or in trouble, do not hesitate. Read the advertisement and follow the advice. Do not forget the number or the manner of directing your letters. Consultation Office, 540, Washington street, San Francisco.

MEDICAL ADVICE.—DR. WM. K. DOHERTY'S Medical and Surgical Institute is becoming a sine quo non to the welfare of our State and heatlh of our citizens; and his rapidly spreading reputation, although it may excite surprise, is but the signal of skill, and follows as the natu result of such a cause. We are personally acquainted with gentlemen who had suffered for years under chronic disease, and who had taken advantage of every available means that promised relief, but without success, until they called upon Dr. Doherty, who, in an incredibly short space of time, has given them entire relief. It is gratifying to announce this fact, because the Dr. is a gentleman who seeks, not by defamation of others to establish his reputation or ruin of another's fame. The Doctor conducts his own Institute in such a manner must be gratifying to all his patients. He examines, advises, and recommends without charge, and the patient, after hearing his terms for treatment, can accept or reject at pleasure. In no case does the Doctor make a charge unless he effects a cure. This he is able to do, because he feels the confidence which long experience has given, and no doubt consolation which appertain to that confidence. Persons afflicted with either acute or chronic disease, would do well to consult the Doctor; at all events, it can do no harm, as for consultation he asks no fee; nor does he insist on obedience to his advice unless the patient places himself under his care. His offices are on Sacramento street, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship office.—News

OF DEATHS, that annually occur, are caused by Preventable Diseases, and the greater portion of those complaints would, if Radway's Ready Relief or Pills, (as the case may require,) were administered when pain or uneasiness or when pain or uneasiness or slight sickness is experienced, be exterminated from the system in a few hours. PAIN, no matter from what cause, is almost instantly cured by the Ready Relief. In cases of Cholera, Diarrhœa, Cramps, Spasms, Bilious Cholic, in fact all Pains, Aches and Infirmities either in the Stomach, Bowels, Bladder, Kidneys, or the Joints, Muscles, Arms, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Fever and Ague, Headache, Toothache, &c., will in a FEW MINUTES yield to the soothing influence of the Ready Relief.

Sudden Colds, Coughs, Influenza, Diptheria, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Chills, Fever and Ague, Mercurial Pains, Scarlet Fever, &c., &c., take from four to six of Radway's Pills, and also a teaspoonful of the Ready Relief in a glass of warm water, sweetened with sugar or honey; bathe the throat, head and chest with Ready Relief, (if Ague or Intermittent Fever, bathe the spine also,) in the morning you will be cured.

How the Ready Relief Acts.

In a few minutes the patient will feel a slight tingling irritation, and the skin becomes reddened; if there is much distress in the stomach, the Relief will assist Nature in removing the offending cause,—a general warmth is felt throughout the entire body, and its diffusive stimulative properties rapidly courses through every vein and tissue of the system, arousing the slothful and partially paralyzed glands and organs to renewed and healthy action, perspiration follows, and the surface of the body feels increased heat. The sickness at stomach, colds, chills, headache, oppressed breathing, the soreness of the throat, and all pains, either internally or externally, rapidly subside, and the patient falls into a tranquil sleep, awakes refreshed, invigorated, cured.

It will be found that in using the Relief externally, either on the spine or across the kidneys, or over the stomach and bowels, that for several days a pleasing warmth will be felt, showing the length of time it continues its influence over the diseased parts.

TYPHOID FEVER.

This disease is not only cured by Dr. Radway's Relief and Pills, but prevented. If exposed to it, put one teaspoonful of Relief in a tumbler of water. Drink this before going out in the morning, and several times through the day. Take one of Radway's Pills one hour before dinner, and one on going to bed.

If seized with fever, take 4 to 6 of the Pills every six hours, until copious discharges from the bowels take place; also drink the Relief diluted with water, and bathe the entire surface of the body with Releif. Soon a powerful perspiration will take place, and you will feel a pleasant heat throughout the system. Keep on taking the Releif repeatedly, every four hours, also the Pills. A cure will be sure to follow. The Relief is strengthening, stimulating, soothing, and quieting; it is sure to break up the Fever and to neutralize the poison.

Let this treatement be followed and thousands will be saved. The same treatment will be followed in Fever and Ague, Yellow Fever, Ship Fever, Billious Fever, will effect a cure in 24 hours. When the patient fells the Relief irritating or heating the skin, a cure is positive. In all cases where pain is felt, the Relief should be used.

S.T-1860-X.

A great French Physician says: "More than half of the disease in the world comes from neglect to fortify the system against changes of climate, weather and food. The great secret of health is to keep the condition of the Stomach and Blood regular and uniform, so that changes from Heat to Cold, from Dry to Damp, etc., cannot upset the machinery of the body, and breed disease."

Now, it is a fact, positive and well known, that there is no such bulwark and assistant for the Stomach as

PLANTATION BITTERS.

This splendid tonic is now used by all classes of people for every symptom of a "Stomach out of order."

The secret of it is this: Plantation Bitters are certain to correct the juices of the Stomach, set all its machinery at work, and enable it to resist and throw off the approaching danger. The tendeny of the operations of Nature is always towards a cure; all she needs is a little assistance at the proper time. How much more reasonable and sensible it is to help her along with a gentle, yet powerful Tonic, than to deluge and weaken and defeat her curative processes with poisonous drugs and fiery mixtures, which only stupify and plant the seeds of disease and death.

THE ERRING.

Think kindly of the erring!
Ye know not of the power
With which the dark temptation came.
In some ungarded hour.
Ye may not know how earnestly
They struggled, or how well,
Until the hour of weakness came,
And sadly thus they fell.

Think kindly of the erring!
Oh! do not thou forget,
However darkly stained by sin,
He is thy brother yet,
Heir of the self-same heritage,
Child of the self-same God;
He hath but stumbled in the path
Thou hast in weakness trod.

Speak gently of the erring!
For is it not enough
That innocence and peace are gone,
Without thy censure rough?
It sure must be a weary lot
The sin-crushed heart to bear;
And they who have a happier lot
Their chidings well may spare.

Speak kindly to the erring!
And then mayst lead them back,
With holy words and tones of love
From misery's thorny track.
Forget not thou hast oftened sinned,
And sinful yet may be—
Deal gently with the erring one,
As God has dealt with thee!

FEMALE DUELISTS.—The mania for duelling was not confined to the sterner sex in France; witness the exploits of the better half of Chateau Gay de Murat. This virago used to appear on horseback in great boots, with her petticoats tucked up, and carrying a sword at her side, and pistols at her saddle bow. Having a bone to pick with a M. Cordieres, she called him out. He "came up smiling," and played about with his sword till he found that the lady was seriously bent on sending him to the ancestral vault. Changing tactics, he pressed her so hard, avoiding wounds, that at last she dropped to the ground through sheer fatigue, and had to cry for quarter. Quarrelling afterward with some gentlemen, she happened to meet them on the chase, and made preparations to charge. Her groom cried, "Come off, madam—come off; they are three against one." "Never mind," quoth the dame; "no one shall say that I met them without charging them." And charge them she did, for the last time, for her adversaries had the bad taste to kill her.

In the gallery of femmes salliantes, La Beaupre holds the foremost place. After an exchange of strong language with La des Urlis she rushed away, and came back bringing, two swords. Des Urlis took one, thinking no ill; but La Beaupre pressed her hard, wounded her in the neck, and would certainly have killed her had not timely help come.

Further on in the point of time comes La Maupin. This magnificent swordswoman had been lightly spoken of by Dumensil, a male fellow performer at the opera, and, in fact, the ecentricities of her manners affords wide scope for comment. Determined to have satisfaction, without any waste of words, she dressed up as a man, and waited for Dumensil as he left the theatre. As soon as he appeared she touched him with her sword, and bade him draw. Dumensil, who was not in a dueling humor, tried to sheer off, when La Maupin produced a stick, and laid it lustily about his shoulders, finishing by taking his watch and snuff-box. The next day the actor was complaining at the theatre of having been set on by a band of robbers, who had ill-treated and despoiled him. "You lie," broke in the virago. "It was my doings. I thrashed you because you hadn't the heart to accept my challenge; if you want proof, look here at your watch and snuff-box." On another occasion she was at a ball in male costume, and managed to provoke three gentlemen. They all went out to fight, and the actress killed the three, one after he other.

Another singular affair was the duel between the Marquise de Nesle and the Countess de Polignac, in the Bois du Boulogne. The former proposed pistols; the countess accepted, and generously gave her adversary the first shot. The marqueise fired, and missed, breaking a branch from a tree. "Anger makes the hand shake," was the cool comment of the countess, who fired, and carried away the tip of her adversary's ear.

A YOUNG Kentuckian having asked his sweet heart to marry him, she stammered out that she was in no hurry but that "her mother was on the marry." Thoughtful girl, to give the old lady a friendly boost.

TOO TRUE.—LOVE is a lighthouse in life's ocean to show us where danger is. Instead of avoiding we sail to it, and are lost.

WHEN marriage is founded on prudence and honor, life has a definite object, and existence becomes a substantial blessing.

THERE are many things that are thorns to our hearts until we have attained them, and envenomed arrows when we have.

As people sprinkle the floors before they sweep them, so wives sprinkle their husbands with tears in order to sweep cash out of their pockets.

WE do not easily discover our faults; the clearest eyes do not see the cheeks below nor the brow above.

A CARD FROM THE AMERICAN WATCH COMPANY
Of Waltham, Mass.

This Company beg leave to inform the public that they commenced operations in 1850, and their factory now covers four acres of ground, and has cost more than a million dollars, and employs over 700 operatives. They produce 75,000 Watches a year, and make and sell not less than one-half of all the watches sold in the United States.

The difference between their manufacture and the European, is briefly this: European are made almost entirely by hand, and the result is of necessity a lack of that uniformity, which is indispensable to correct time-keeping. Both the eye and the hand of the most skillful operative must vary. But it is a fact that, except watches of the higher grades, are the product of the cheapest labor of Switzerland and the result is the worthless Ancres, Lepines and so-called Patent Levers—which soon cost more in attempted repairs, than their original cost. Common workmen, boys and women, buy the rough separate parts of these watches from various factories, polish and put them together, and take to the nearest watch merchant, who stamps and engraves them with any name or brand that may be ordered.

How American Watches are made.

The American Waltham Watch is made by no such uncertain process—and by no such incompetent workmen. All the Company's operations, from the reception of the raw materials to the completion of the watch, are carried on under one roof, and under one skillful and competent direction. But the great distinguishing feature of their watches, is the fact that their several parts are all made by the finest, the most perfect and delicate machinery ever brought to the aid of human industry. Every one of the more than a hundred parts of every watch is made by a machine—that infallibly reproduces every succeeding part with the most unvarying accuracy. It was only necessary to make one perfect watch of any particular style and then to adjust the hundred machines necessary to reproduce every part of that watch, and it follows that succeeding watches must be like it.

The Company respectfully submit their watches on their merits only. They claim to make

A Better Article for the Money

by their improved mechanical processes than can be made under the old fashioned handicraft system. They manufacture watches of every grade, from a good, low-priced and substantial article, in solid silver hunting cases, to the finest chronometer; and also ladies' watches in plain gold or the finest enam eled and jeweled cases; but the indispensable requisite of all their watches is that they shall be GOOD TIME-KEEPERS. It should be remembered that, except their single lowest grade named the "Home Watch Company, Boston," ALL watches made by them

ARE FULLY WARRANTED

by a special certificate, and this warrantee is good at all times against the Company or its agents.

MEDICAL.

THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH.

Every Man His Own Physician.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS,
AND
HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT!

Disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

The Stomach is the great centre which influences the health or disease of the system—Abused or debilitated by excess—indigestion, offensive breath and physical prostration are the natural consequences. Allied to the brain, it is the source of headaches, fiental depression, nervous complaints and unrefreshing sleep. The Liver becomes affected and generates bilious disorders, pains in the side, &c. The Bowels sympathize by Costiveness, Diarrhœa and Dysentery. The principal action of these Pills is on the stomach, and the liver, lungs, bowels and kidneys participate in their recuperative and regenerative operation.

Erysipelas and Salt Rheum,

Are two of the most common and virulent disorders prevalent on this continent, to these the Ointment is especially antagonistic, its "modus operandi" is first to eradicate the venom and then complete the cure.

Bad Legs, Old Sores, and Ulcers.

Cases of many years' standing, that have pertinaciously refused to yield to any other remedy or treatment, have invariably succumbed to a few applications of this powerful unguent.

Eruptions on the Skin.

Arising from a bad state of the blood of chronic biseases, are eradicated, and a clear and transparent surface regained by the restorative actton of this Ointment. It surpasses many of the cosmetics and other toilet appliances in its power to dispel rashes and other disfigurements of the face.

Female Complaints.

Whether in the young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these tonic medicines display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible in the health of the patient. Being a purely vegetable preparation, they are a safe and reliable remedy for all classes of Females in every condition of health and station of life.

Piles and Fistula.

Every form and feature of these prevalent and stubborn disorders is eradicated locally and entirely by the use of this emolient; warm fomentations should precede its application. Its healing qualities will be found to be thorough and invariable.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bunions,	Piles,	Sore Legs,
Burns,	Rheumatism,	Sore Breasts,
Chilblains,	Ringworm,	Sore Heads,
Fistula,	Salt Rheum,	Sore Throats,
Gout	Scalds,	Sprains,
Stiff Joints,	Tetter,	Ulcers.
Lumbago,	Skin Diseases	Venereal Sores,
Sores of all kinds,	Mercurial Eruptions,
Swelled Glands,	Wounds of all kinds.

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "HOLLOWAY, NEW YORK AND LONDON," are discernible as a Water Mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

THIS CELEBRATED INSTITUTE

has enjoyed on this coast an uninterrupted success of fourteen years, and has become one of the renowned Hospitals of the age. What the celebrated Lock Hospital is to London, and the no less renowned establishment of Ricord is to Paris, this Institute has become to the Pacific coast. The thousands annually received and cured place it in point of number of patients among the very first of the world, and the success of its treatment ranks it second to none.

PRIVATE DISEASES IN MALES and IRREGULARITIES IN FEMALES are the great destroyers of health. They insidiously attack the system and gradually undermine and destroy it; they drive the bloom from the cheek, the lustre from the eye, the strength from the frame; they give to the world puny and diseased offspring, and poison, through successive generations the race of man. The marks can be seen in Scrofula, Consumption, Cripples, the Idiotic, the Paralytic, the Insane, etc.

There is no more terrible scourge to the human race than those diseases arising from the contamination of Venerial Poison. The mildest forms, by retreating to the blood, hold over the afflicted one, the destruction that is liable at any moment to fall and blight—to utterly destroy—all earthly hopes.

MERCURY, recognized as the most fatal medical enemy to man, combining with the Venereal, doubles its dangers. Those who have been treated with that pernicious mineral poison are not cured; the disease has only assumed a new form,

Do not be satisfied with partial cures that leave the poison to crawl through the system, eating its way into the tissues and organs beneath the apparently smooth surface, to burst out in the future with a virulence that will baffle the effects of medicine, WHEN PERFECT CURES can be obtained by consulting a physician whom long practice and thorough investigation into the causes of DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS enables to determine at once the nature of the disease.

In all cases entrusted to the Doctor's care, PERFECT, SPEEDY and PERMANENT Cures are Always Guaranteed.

In syphilis and its adjuncts; Gonnorrhœa and its accompanying diseases; and all diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, and prostate; Seminal Weakness; Diseases of the Heart and Lungs; Dyspepsia; Indigestion, Impotency; Incipient consumption, and all diseases of the urinary organs, in either sex, cure always warranted, or NO PAY REQUIRED, at the Seminal Weakness or Spermatorrhœa.

The young man who experiences that growing weakness in his muscular and mental organization, should stop to consider whence it arises. He will find in the weakness of the back, trembling of the limbs, disordered digestion unaccountable failing of the powers of the mind, distaste for society, dread of impending trouble, forebodings of evil, sleeplessness, troubled and lascivious dreams, accompanied by growing deafness, loss of muscular power, and numerous other symptons of disorganization, the positive traces of that most terrible and destructive of all diseases Seminal Weakness—wasting away his powers, destroying his hope of life and manhood, and dragging him along the broken path of his existence towards a premature and loathsome grave. To him who finds his life dribbling out in the discharge of the vital principle of existence in nocturnal and diurnal emissions, the mere cessation of its appearance brings no assurance of relief.

Marriage, that holy office, the safeguard and hope of manhood, brings to such an one no hope of cure, but adds to his misery in the knowledge that the one who looks to him for so much of her happiness, is a victim to this evil, and an innocent companion of his punishment. He adds to his misery and disorder until hope leaves him. There is no rescue except in proper and skillful treatment. Consult then, at once, a physician whom long practice and careful research has made thoroughly conversant with every phase of the disease. Those who have become the victims of solitary vices, that dreadful, fascinating and destructive habit, which fills thousands of sick-rooms with paralytics and consumptives, and hundreds of untimely graves with its misguided victims, should consult, without a moment's delay, one who will sympathize with their sufferings. To such the Doctor would especially address himself, giving to each and all assurance of a PERFECT and PERMANENT CURE, without hindrance to business, change of diet, or fear of exposure.

Do not forget the address. See below.

Important to Females.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease and requires medical or surgical assistance, the enquiry should be, Where is there a physician who is fully competent to administer relief, and whose respectable standing in society recommends him to the confidence of the community? The Doctor understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to interpose, and beg the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous and designing. Therefore families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who will feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble—one in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed. Consultation by letter or otherwise, FREE. See address below.

THE CELEBRATED FEMALE REMEDIES, compounded from the private prescription of Dr. Young, have now obtained a most extended popularity, and are correctly viewed to be the safest and surest remedies for the complaints for which they are applied. FRENCH MEDICAL OFFICE.

DR. JULIEN PERRAULT, Doctor of Medicine of the Faculty of Paris, Graduate of the University Queen's College, and Physician of the St. John Baptiste Society of San Francisco.

DR. PERRAULT has pleasure to inform patients, and others seeking confidential medical advice, that he can be consulted daily at his office, Armory Hall Building, North-East corner Montgomery and Sacramento streets, San Francisco. Rooms No. 9, 10, 11, first floor, upstairs, entrance either Montgomery or Sacramento streets.

DR. PERRAULT'S studies have been almost exclusively devoted to the cure of the various forms of Nervous and Physical Debility, the results of injurious habits acquired in youth, which usually terminate in impotence and sterility, and permanently induce all the concomitants of old age. Where a secret infirmity exists involving the happiness of a life and that of others, reason and morality dictate the necessity of its removal, for it is a fact that premature decline of the vigor of manhood, matrimonial unhappiness, compulsory single life, etc., have their sources in causes, the germ of which is planted in early life, and the bitter fruit tasted long after-ward; patients, laboring under this complaint, will complain of one or more of the following symptons: Nocturnal Emissions, Pains in the Back and Head, Weakness of Memory and Sight, Discharge from the Uretha on going to stool or making water, the Intellectual Faculties are Weakened, Loss of Memory ensues, Ideas are clouded and there is a disinclination to attend to business, or even to reading, writ ign of the society of friends, etc, The patient will probably complain of Dizziness, Vertigo and that Sight and Hearing are Weakened and sleep disturbed by dreams, melancholy, sighing, palpitations, faintings, coughs and slow fever; while some have external rheumatic pain, bness of the body. Some of the most common symptons are pimples in the face and aching in different parts of the body. Patients suffering from this disease, should apply immediately to Dr. PERRAULT, either in person or by letter as he will guarantee a cure of Seminal Emissions and Impotence in six to eight weeks.

Patients suffering from venereal diseases in any stage Gonorrhea, Gleet, Strictures, Bubo Ulcers, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc., will be treated successfully. All Syphilitic and Mercurial Taints entirely removed from the system.

DR. PERRAULT'S diplomas are in his office, where patients can see for themselves that they are under the care of a regularly educated practitioner. The best references given if required.

Patients suffering under chronic diseases, can call and examine for themselves. We invite investigation; claim not to know everything, nor to cure everybody, but we do claim that in all cases taken under treatment we fulfil our promises. We particularly request those who have tried this boasted doctor, and that advertised physician, till worn out and discouraged, to call upon us.

Elias Howe, jr., Proprietor,
No. 609 Broadway, N. Y.

For Families and Manufacturers.

They are celebrated for doing the best work using a much smaller needle for the same thread than any other machine.

The New Improved Family Machine is without a rival, and cannot be surpassed—a Hemer, Feller, Braider, Quilter, and Guide, go with each Family Machine free of charge.

Every machine is as near perfection as the best machinery in the world can make it.

They are adapted to all kinds of Family sewing and Manufacturing of every description, making a beautiful and perfect stitch, alike on both sides of the articles sewed, and will neither rip nor ravel.

The parts being exactly alike, if any part needs to be replaced, the operator can replace, it.

Loss of time and expense of sending to a machine shop rarely occurs.
